MANCHESTER.—The Chartist Mechanics held their weekly meeting in the Large Room, Brown Street, on Thursday evening last, to hear a lecture upon the present state of the Chartist movement, by Dr. William Dixon. The lecture was well attended by a respectable audience, in fact, notwithstanding the persecution that is raging at present in this part of the country, the room was crowded to suffocation, and all were determined to stick to the Charter in defiance of persecutions, prosecutions, or intimidation. On the conclusion of the lecture, several gentlemen came forward and took the books to receive subscriptions for the General Defence Fund.

CARPENTERS' HALL.—Mr. W. Jones, of Liverpool, delivered two powerful and soul-stirring addresses, the first in the afternoon upon the pressing question of the "Slave and the other in the evening of practical Chartism; and on individuals were added to the ranks of the unhampered and despised Chartists. The collection in support of the Hall amounted to £4 0s. 6d. Inclusive of a very liberal sum for the General Anti-Slavery Defence Fund. At the close of the lecture, Mr. James Leach came forward, and was received with warm cheers, mingled with expressions of sympathy for himself, and his cause.

creations. After the cheering had subsided, Mr. Griffin addressed the meeting for a short time, reporting them to perseverance in the good cause, and expressing his willingness that the worst might befall him, and that whatever punishment his and their oppressors might think proper to inflict upon him, for his advocacy of the immutable principles of justice to every man, he then administered a severe castigation upon the same and traitorous scoundrel who rejoices in the name of Griffin, and who, by the bye, has made the fabulous monster of the ancients into a modern reality; and concluded by bidding his hearers take well, at the same time reiterating his oft-declared determination never to relax in his exertions till the people were restored to their long-lost rights. His conception can be formed of the enthusiasm which prevailed throughout the immense mass of living beings who occupied the Hall.

STOCKPORT.—YOUTHS.—Mr. Matthew De edge delivered a very instructive lecture on the evils of class legislation, on Sunday afternoon, in the room Bomber's-row, to a very attentive audience for which he received a unanimous vote of thanks of ten shillings was voted and sent to the Evening Star office for the general defence fund.

YORK.—At a meeting of the Chartists of York on Tuesday evening, the following resolution was moved by E. Burley, seconded by R. Gill, "That we, the Chartists of York, do thank the men of London for the zeal they have evinced to serve the cause, by the election of an Executive, Pro.Tem, y we are of opinion that such election was unnecessary at that time, inasmuch as the Executive are not y convicted; and further, we consider the act th have committed unjustifiable, as the sense of t country ought to have been taken upon the subject and we are further of opinion that the books of t

Executive ought to have been placed in the hands of Mr. Morgan Williams, and all communications addressed to him, until Mr. Campbell is at liberty to go to act, or the country elect another General Secretary to supply his place." Second, moved by

Burley, seconded by Thomas Hunter, "That thanks of this meeting are due, and hereby given to the brave Chartists of Malton, for their noble conduct in attending the constable's meeting, and defeating the factions, by carrying their own list of persons in nomination for parish constables of this aristocratic town."

BIRMINGHAM.—ASTON-STREET. — The
 was a good assemblage at this place on Sunday night, with the expectation of hearing a lecture from Mr. Farren, but that gentleman not making his appearance, his place was admirably filled by the talented young man, Mr. Gammage, of Northampton. He began by observing that the Government was strong through the apathy of the people. The Chartists had the power to put down Whigs, and surely they had the power to put down Tories.

roryism. We have not forgotten the time when the people of Ireland voted according to their conscience. The bloody massacres of Peterborough and Rathcormac were still fresh in our memories. What have they now done with the standing army of military and police? They have indiscriminately butchered men, women, and children in the public ureols. They have made a decisive effort to destroy our press. Will they crush the Star? No. If the Star, too, ten Stars, brighter, if possible, will arise. It will be chargeable upon the people, if they permit so flagrant an outrage upon the people to be perpetrated. The enemies of the suffrage declared the working men were too ignorant ant to exercise so important a trust with propriety and with benefit to themselves. Admitting this to be a fact, the charge can with bad grace from parties receiving twenty millions yearly with the ostensible object of educating the people. It was evident from the indifference with which they looked upon the brutality of ignorance which surrounded them on all sides, that they cared more, a vast deal, for the pence than the people. He concluded by a powerful appeal on behalf of the imprisoned victims to Whig and Tory, Millian, and trusted they would not permit them to be sacrificed for want of necessary support. He was received throughout with marks of the warmest approbation. On Monday Mr. Manning is to be the

Mr. Talbot read an address from Mr. G. W. White, one of the Chartists of Birmingham. Mr. Thorpe read the leading articles of the Star—after which a discussion took place upon the propriety of supporting Mr. White, in preference to those who have shown themselves to be enemies to the numerous and distressed class from whom they received such official patronage.

NOTICE.—The Northern and Evening Stars will be read on every Sunday morning, at ten o'clock, in the Aston-street room; admission free.
