OSBURN Charlatan is processing here; we unite enrolling members every time we meet. The leading Room is open every evening for the members of public. A general meeting of the members takes place every Sunday morning, owing to the pitcon not being every day for Exeter. For the members who are unable to attend at such a time, the members who are unable to attend every Tuesday evening, at seven o'clock.

COLNE.—Mr James Duffy delivered a most excellent lecture to the Chartists of this town, on Friday, the 1st instant, in the large room, Windy-bank. At the conclusion, three cheers were given for the Northern Star and for Duffy. Duffy was followed by Messrs. Williams, and Jones; and three for the repeal of the Legislative Union. Several new members were enrolled.

HOLLAND'S BALSAM OF SPRUCE, for COUGHS and COLDS.

The Twenty-four Testimony in favour of this extraordinary Medicine. Liverpool, Feb. 20, 1841.

"Dear Sir,—It is with feelings of the most lively gratitude that I convey to you the enclosed testimonial, in which I have obtained by the use of your Hoid's Balsam of Spruce. I feel it incumbent upon me to make you acquainted with my case; though willing to put myself forward, yet I conceive it to be my duty to do so, as I feel that I have benefited those who have used it. I perceive you have inclosed this to your medicine. My case was one of that numerous class which unfortunately are of too frequent occurrence in this variable climate, namely, colds from the throat, from the pursuit of my business, and the neglect of the commonest precautions, though all the usual signs of colds, next cough, an difficulty of breathing, attended with most distressing exertions in coughing, with sensation of food rushing upwards to the head until the temples were almost bursting, and, notwithstanding the use of medicines; when, almost without hope, I saw your advertisement, and was induced to give it a trial, and, I rejoice to state, that the first night afforded relief. A little continuance in its use gradually cured my remaining sleep, and now I am happily restored to health. Allow me, Sir, to tender you my best thanks for the means you have taken to reach your discovery before the public, who, I am convinced, will be benefited by its use.

"Yours, most obediently,
"JAMES WILSON."

"To Mr. C. Holland."

"This case will be immediately followed by others, the number of nearly 100 already received; its consoling power in subduing coughs and colds exceeds all belief, whilst its healing, balsamic, and soothing qualities instantly relieve soreness and inflammation of the chest, such of suffocation, sore throat, &c."

Sold by W. Hallist, 83, High Holborn, nearly opposite the George and Blue Boat Inn; and by all the leading Vendors in the Kingdom. Price 1s. 1d.

Sold also by Heaton, Baines, and Co. Leeds; Crook, Dewsbury; Cardwell, Wakefield; Co. Lantry, Carlisle; Rhodes, Denist; Brooke and Co., Doncaster; Hargrove, Dennis, York; Rogerson, Bradford; Davey, Huddersfield; Booth, Rochdale.

The extraordinary demand for PARR'S LIFE PILLS has induced several shopkeepers of mean and dishonest principles, to try to impose upon the public, by selling cheap imitations, and containing most pernicious ingredients, merely for the sake of the passing extra profit, totally regardless of the deadly consequences which must ensue.

Observe, that each box of the genuine Medicine is pasted round with the Government Stamp, and the name of the proprietor is engraved thereon. PARR'S LIFE PILLS in white letters on a red ground, none other can be genuine.

In no instance has this invaluable Medicine failed to effect a perfect cure where the patient has performed all the directions. Read the following from Mrs. Moxon, York:—

"York, Sept. 7, 1841.

"Gentlemen,—We shall feel obliged by your re-lating the last order for Parr's Life Pills, and forwarding immediately by Pickford's Rails. In-lance at each of the several directions, and continuing to us by their agency. One woman who had been reduced almost to the last stage of existence extreme asthma, was, by taking two or three boxes, restored to health. Another instance is a patient who had been confined to her bed for sixteen weeks; took incapacitated for walking; by simply taking two or three boxes of Parr's Life Pills can walk with all the activity and freedom of perfect health. I could enumerate many other instances, but these will suffice to prove the efficacy of the Medicine in ameliorating disease and restoring health.

It is a melancholy fact that thousands fall victims to this horrid disease, owing to the unskillfulness of the men; who, by the use of the deadly arsenic, mercury, ruin the constitution, causing blindness, blotches on the head, face, and body, loss of sight, noise in the ears, deafness, obstinate, diseased nodes on the shin bones, ulcerated sores on the limbs, till at length a general debility of the whole system, and a melancholy death put an end to their dreadful sufferings.

MEDICAL ADVICE.

THE AFFLICTED WITH SCURVY, VENEREAL, OR SYPHILITIC DISEASES, RHEUMATISM, AND NERVOUS OR SEXUAL DEBILITY.

MR. M. WILKINSON,
SURGEON, &c.

and every THURSDAY, at No. 4, George Street, Bradford.

HAVING devoted his studies for many years exclusively to the various diseases of the general and nervous system, in the removal of those distressing diseases arising from a secret indulgence in a debilitated and destructive habit, and to the successful treatment of the same.

VENEREAL AND SYPHILITIC DISEASES, continues to be consulted from nine in the morning till ten at night, and on Sundays till two, and every patient requiring his assistance, by making one personal visit, will receive such advice and medicines as will ensure, and maintain a permanent and effectual cure, when all other means have failed.

Recent cases of a certain disorder a perfect cure accomplished in one week, or no charge made for medicine after that period; and in those cases where practitioners have failed, a perseverance in treatment, without restraint in diet, or hindrance from business, will ensure to the patient a permanent and effectual cure.

Frequently happens that in moments of thoughtless person inhabits a disease where suspicion is likely to be excited; this state of security leads to a want of caution which aggravates the cure of the complaint. But where immediate medical assistance is obtained, the correct course is checked, the infamy, smothered, or it takes root, and decided before its venom can effect a perceptible cure in the system.—Where the disease has allowed to exist and remain, the more cause we have to regret, and the more anxious should we be to remove it, and a more removal of its external appearance is not to be depended upon; a thorough cure be achieved to prevent a return of the disease, leave the system free from all infection.

Complete knowledge of the symptoms and treatment of these tedious and dangerous diseases, can be acquired by those who are in daily practice, and have previously gone through a regular course of MEDICAL INSTRUCTION; for, unfortunately, there are hundreds who annually fall victims to the ignorance of Mercury and other dangerous remedies, and the consequence is, that the patient is often in suffering disease to get into the system, being carried by the circulation of the blood into all parts of the body, the whole frame becomes infected with venereal poison, and most unhappy consequences ensue, at the time affecting the skin, particularly the head and face, with eruptions and sores, closely resembling, and often treated as scurvy, other period producing the most violent pains in the limbs and bones, which are frequently mistaken for rheumatism; thus the whole frame becomes debilitated and decayed, and a lingering death puts an end to their dreadful sufferings.

What a grief for a young person in the very prime of life, to be snatched out of time and from all the pleasures of life, by a disease always local at first, which never proves fatal if properly treated, as it is, in fact, proves are owing either to neglect or ignorance.

It is W's invariable rule is to give a Cure to each Patient as a guarantee for cure, which he is himself to perform, or return his fee.

For the accommodation of either sex, where licence or decency prevents a personal visit, his assistance may be had by letter.

and, for the counties of Warwick and Worcester." The motion was carried unanimously. Mr. Cresswell was appointed secretary, and Mr. Barlow consented to assist him. Mr. Follows, of Monmouth-street, was unanimously appointed treasurer. Mr. A. Fagell then addressed the delegates. He said that he had been deputed from Mr. White's Defence Fund Committee, to wait upon them in order to impress on the district the necessity of aiding the fund for that purpose. Mr. White had been to Rugby to see the solicitor for the prosecution, and transact other business connected with the defence, of which he could inform them. Mr.

White had been to Rugby to see the solicitor for the prosecution, and transact other business connected with his defence, of which he could inform them. Mr.

He then stated that as he had been served with a written document from the Queen's Bench, calling on him to attend at London on the first day of next term, and as there was some rumour as to the withdrawal of the prosecution, wishing also to visit Rugby to make certain enquiries necessary for his defence, he went there on Friday last and had an interview with Mr. Harris, the prosecuting attorney, who informed him that in consequence of a mistake which he had made in taking the affidavits of the witnesses for the prosecution, the first indictment or information had been withdrawn, but that they were proceeding with the proceedings with the case, and were about to search for another in the beginning of the term. Mr. Hoey stated that Mr. White's defence fund was the first thing they meant to take up in Coventry. He then recommended the secretary to correspond with the other members of the neighbourhood regarding their co-operation, and hoped that each delegate present would exert themselves in aid of the fund. Mr. Cresswell moved, That each Council be requested to exert themselves on behalf of Mr. White's defence fund. The motion seconded the motion which was carried unanimously. A conversation then took place as to the progress which was being made in procuring signatures to the National Petition, which was satisfactory. Mr. Cresswell stated that he would state the names of the persons nominated for Warwick and Worcester, and there would be no ballot entered into. He therefore thought that the election should take place as soon as possible, and a public meeting called for the purpose. Mr. Hoey moved, That the next town be called to order for a public meeting for the purpose of carrying out their previous nomination, and that it be done before that day month. In the motion of Mr. Fellows, the meeting was adjourned to that day month, to assemble at the City of London, St. Giles's Lane, at two o'clock. A vote of thanks was given to the Chairman, and the meeting separated.

BARNARD-WICK.—Mr. Duffy lectured here on Thursday, Jan. 6th, to an attentive audience.

PRIMITIVE METHODIST CHAPEL.—The services were held on Sunday night last. Mr. Matthew Bradley was called to the pulpit, and Mr. Ross lectured to a very attentive audience, after which Mr. Dawhurst addressed the meeting.

EVYER BILL.—Lectures and discussions continue to be held in the Primitive Methodist chapel, every Wednesday evening. The cause is going on well.

LIVERSIDGE—LITTLE TOWN.—The Christians of this place have long been put about the want of a room to meet in; but they have at last succeeded in obtaining one occupied by Charles H. Johnson, a Christian capable of holding a society number.

The Gospel is preached twice every Sunday without money and without price. An association was formed on New Year's Eve, eighteen members were enrolled, and it is worthy of remark that they have formed male adult school, for the instruction of each other in reading, writing, and arithmetic; they have also formed a library upon a very simple plan, every member bringing a book, say twenty, which will enable each member to have a fresh volume every week, for twenty weeks.

MIDDLETON.—The Chartists of this place held their usual weekly meeting in their Association Room, on Sunday last. The Secretary read over the accounts connected with the Association; and at the conclusion

CHARTIST SCHOOL.—The Chartists have opened their Association Room for the purpose of establishing Sunday and evening school, to teach reading, writing,

ABERDARE.—The Chartist of this place held a meeting on Tuesday, the 4th inst., at the New Inn, Mill-street, Mr. William Charles was appointed to the chair; Mr. Bayley, from Merthyr, expounded separately, the six points of the People's Charter, in English, in a and style, which gave great satisfaction to a roomful of attentive auditors. At the close of the address, the speaker, in a very appropriate speech in the same matter, and proved that no other means could remove the distress now existing amongst the working classes in this kingdom, without getting the People to alter the law of the land. After enrolling fifteen new members, making a total of ninety-three, the meeting separated.

IDLE.—On Monday last, Mr. Knowles lectured here on the evils of class legislation, to a numerous and attentive audience, after which eight members were enrolled.

BRADFORD.—COUNCIL MEETING.—This body held their usual weekly meeting at the North Tavern, on Sunday evening, Mr. John Borrowes in the chair. A letter was read from the General, and Captain Bond offering to join the Chartists, if the meetings of the Council were changed from Sunday to a week night. A deputation, consisting of Messrs. Brook, Ibbetson, and Smyth, was appointed to hold a conference with them, and explain the reasons why the Council meet on Sunday. From twenty-six to thirty persons offering to join the Council, are already obtained to the petition. The Council men handed to the Treasurer several sums collected for Mrs. Frost, and the meeting adjourned to Sunday next, at six o'clock in the evening, when the report of the conference with the Baptist body will be submitted to the Council.

BOWLING.—RICK-LANE.—The Chartist of this place met on Sunday evening last, in their Association Room, to hear a lecture from Mr. Henry Rodgson. Mr. Hird was called to the chair, who briefly opened the meeting, and introduced Mr. Rodgson, who delivered an able and interesting lecture on the present state of society, and the future prospects of the toiling and enslaved millions. He dwelt at great length on the remedies proposed by the different parties for the restoration of the comfort and happiness of the colored population, and approved, to the satisfaction of every one present, that nothing short of the People's Charter would ever restore this country to its wonted greatness and prosperity.

DENHAM HOLDS.—The Chartists of Little Wymondley opened their first public meeting on Sunday. Mr. Denham, of Bradford, preached at the dissenting chapel, the sermon in the afternoon, and Mr. Thomas Ibbotson, another very impressive sermon in the evening. After the evening service, Mr. Brook announced that it was their intention to enter into a subscription for Mr. Frost, and that the difficulties under which this noble "Whig-made widow" laboured.

NEWARK.—Mr. W. D. Taylor preached two sermons here on Sunday afternoon and evening, in the Large Association Room, which was filled.

THE CHARTISTS OF NEWARK, wishing to testify their loyalty to the Queen, agreed to call a public meeting of the inhabitants, to be held on Monday evening, seven o'clock, for the purpose of which was applied to announce the meeting, but he went to consult his Worship the Mayor, who ordered him not to announce the meeting, which was to commemorate the Queen on the birth of a Prince, and for the restoration of Frederick Williams, and Jones; but there was some understanding. The good news, however, Mr. James Saunders was called to the chair, and richly introduced Mr. Taylor to the meeting, who brought forward Mr. Bigg's Midland Counties Charter, and in an able speech pointed out the superiority of the People's Charter over Mr. Bigg's partial one. At the conclusion of his address, Mr. Linpham moved the adoption of the memorial, which was seconded by Mr. F. Hargreaves.

which was seconded by Mr. F. Houghton, and carried unanimously. Mr. Thomas Simmitt moved a resolution, which was seconded by Mr. W. Ingram Haw, and carried unanimously:—“That this meeting views with disgust the partial, uncharitable, and disloyal conduct of the Mayor in refusing to allow the prior to call this meeting for the purpose of memorialising her Majesty, and are resolved on all occasions to protest against and

IRVINE.—A meeting was held here, in the hall of the Eagle Inn, on the night of Friday, the 7th, Mr. Andrew Garven in the chair, for the purpose of hearing the report of Mr. George Hume, our delegate at the late meeting in Glasgow. The meeting having heard the same, tendered him a vote of thanked him for his services, and agreed to receive the report for their further consideration. Disappointment and dissatisfaction were expressed at some of the resolutions come to by the meeting at Glasgow, particularly with respect to the National Petition. The following resolution was unanimously agreed to:— “ Seeing that the large meetings lately held throughout Scotland either tacitly or by public resolutions pledged themselves to Feargus O’Connor to dopt the National Petition, as drawn up by the Executive of England, and as the Scottish Convention, in our opinion, have committed political suicide by departing from the same, we, the Chartists of the north, do resolve not to stultify our former resolutions by going into any other petition for the present."

BURT.—Mr. Charles Connor, of Manchester, lectured to the people of this town, on Monday evening last, in the Garden-street Lecture Room. There was a large and attentive audience, and he gave general satisfaction.

WOTTON-UNDER-EDGE.—Mr. Knowles, of Kelghley, lectured here yesterday evening week, to a crowded audience, "On the evils of pass: Government," and urged on his hearers the necessity of establishing this People's Charter as the law of the land.

meatery has gone on producing; it has continued nothing of that which it has produced; and, further, it has rendered the home market valueless by throwing destitute on the world those who were our consumers in the home market, namely the workmen of the place. When the Colonel can make the operation of this empire that meatery has battered their condition he will have employed more conclusive reasoning than he has yet exhibited.

nam. The present time passing reveals their wishes; for whilst one of the bloodiest set of despots that ever caused a nation with its rule holds the reins of government, and who will not fall in imitation of him, is immediately preparing to urge the iron heel of oppression still deeper upon the necks of their slaves, and who ever and anon develops a wish to set some despotic prince upon a throne to destroy the overbearing power of the people.

"unlabeled," "undesignated," "unclassified," "unimportant," and all the grades, down to the "union-house keeper;" and these being "posts of trust and importance," cannot be committed to any but men of "respectable" connections; and, these you know, Sir, Stanfield, must be clothed as "gentlemen." But, Sir, the little which will be left after all the "officials" are clothed, we shall "barter" for "Grogan," which will be good enough, and indeed far more so than other

First, the so-called English Petition is the petition of the majority of the Chartists of Great Britain. I assume in the outset, that the working men of Scotland (whatever the middle class may desire) mean to have thoroughly that they, if possible, avoid the sight of the man, and often hide themselves, even from their own flesh, their kindred; and then, if you can, apprehend the awful ruin of their minds! Pouring the anguish of their parents and their brethren, dejected, degraded, desponding: their grief is augmented in the season of destitution, because the labour of those cripples now

FELLOW COUNTRYMEN.—I address you as one whom but, demanding that which you have never denied, viz. liberty of speech, I shall, as a man, a countryman, and a Chartist, enter my protest against the rejection of the National Petition, by a majority of one in the Scottish Convention. The following are my reasons:—

First, the so-called English Petition is the petition of the majority of the Chartists of Great Britain. I
