one class of the community against the other?

instead of peace?—and how can there be peace if one class of the community oppresses the other? How can there be peace if one class of the community plunders the other—if one class of the community enslaves the other—if one class of the community crushes the other, and tread it as mire under its feet? There can be no peace—there ought to be no peace (again, hear). Peace would be the highest offence against heaven—peace, under such circumstances, would be impunity and blasphemy against God. You may ask whether Christianity does not inculcate patience to be?—yes, patience and not to retaliate patience to be?—yes, patience and not all the appointments of Heaven. But is wretchedness, and poverty, and misery.

Heaven? No; God has not created poverty: ~~the contrary, the Bible says~~ God made all things (not for himself, he does not want them) but for man, who does require them. The Bible says that law should be anomalously stretched for the purpose of making examples of the rich for the intimidation of the poor. As well might informations be tendered against those children whom he saw, with kind of drill-sergeant at their head, walking in their several schools, on the very day named in the information against the defendants.

Two counsel were called. Mr. Paleyfrayman, not to raise his defence on any analogy between the case of the defendants and that of school processions, and but to adduce the evidence on which he relied. It was ultimately decided that Mr. Cobbett should proceed with his case.

Peter Hoeg was called and examined. Was in Buckley's public-house on the 19th of May, between eleven and twelve o'clock at night. Saw Gomersall there, and heard him say "We were training."

Cross-examined by Mr. PALFREYMAN.—Gomersall exactly as what drew the observation from Canon said; thinks it arose from the mention of Pee Green. Supposes that Gomersall alluded to those who came in with him. Gomersall said he got there at eleven, and then he went out at night in one case. That case was that he had been there before. The charge. There were about a dozen or so there. The conversation was not about politics but about trade. Mr. Buckley's brewer was in company with witnesses. They had a pint of ale together. Knew Gomersall perfectly well for many years before. Was at Pee Green on Whitsun-Tuesday. Gomersall said "We presidential-force men are going to Peep Green on Tuesday." Was previously far from Mr. Harvey, and ten years with Mr. Tee. Mr. Harvey is a drink manufacturer. Took a walk on Whitsunday. Mr. Gomersall about 4 o'clock, and asked him to take a walk with him. They went to the Stair Foot public house together, without any previous appointment. They got there about five o'clock. Charles Frudd, a stranger, whom he never saw before, was in the house. He knew nothing about Gomersall's coming. He had been there about half an hour and a half, the two Frudds and George Fletcher came in. Remembers Mr. Ellison came in about half an hour or so after the Frudds and Fletcher came in. After that, Newgass and a commercial traveller named Taylor, came in about eight o'clock. With them came Frudds and Fletcher. The expectation of meeting the Frudds was the reason. He left about eight o'clock. Eight, Jas. Frudd left the house with witness about half past eight, the others followed. The others came three and four abreast in the road. James Frudd took witness's arm, and never parted till they arrived at Barnsley. They came a mile alone in close conversation. Gomersall was alone. He was not conversing with any one. He was not conversing with Frudds or with Taylor. They were thirty or forty yards before the others. Some of the times they were alone. Gomersall said—"Gentlemen, I am glad to see you march so soldier-like. But there is one of you out of step." One of the party behind said let us halt, and make him dress up. Gomersall was a fiver in the 84th foot. That was the last time he was in the 84th foot. He was in the Cannon. He knew nothing about the Cannon ordered. When they had come to Nessbro' Dyke, he found a person lying drunk on the road, and the walking three or four deep picked him up. At Nessbro' Dyke, some one called out, "What are you Are you Radicals?" Gomersall said, "We are Physical Force men." They were then asked to go away for Peep Green. Gomersall said "Aye." When they got to the town, Gomersall said "I have conducted yourselves very well; now you have better life off, two and two.

Thomas Ellison.—Went to Stair Foot on Whitsunday. On their return, Newgass was walking with him. Newgass broke off and went to the house. Witness followed him. Newgass said "Well, my son, I can't walk so quick. I am not very well," and broke off again. Witness followed with Gomersall to Buckley's. William Frudd and Fletcher went with him. They found others there. Here the evidence for the defence appeared to be closed, and Mr. COBBETT had replied; when the Court requested Mr. Paleyfrayman to proceed with his case for the defence to be brought in.

Charles Briggs, of Otley, the landlord of the Stair Foot, Charles Ward, grocer, of Leeds, Richard Ellison, linen manufacturer, William Heworth, grocer, "P. Buckley, landlord of the Royal Oak, were then severally called, and sworn that the whole matter was a joke.

The majority of the witnesses for the defence, however, having submitted themselves to the same punishment as the defendants, the Magistrate received their evidence with proper caution; and after due deliberation and patient hearing, decided that the defendants Gomersall, the two Frudds and Fletcher, should give bail to appear at the Rotherham Sessions, on the 9th of July next, at the two Frudds and Fletcher themselves in £100, at two sureties of £50 each, and Gomersall, himself in £20, and two sureties in £10.

The required bail was immediately procured, and the case, after a hearing of five hours, was disposed of.

FATAL WRESTLING.—Two men, named Cookson and McMorris, lately drinking together at a public-house, Debnasgate, Manchester, began talking of their comparative strength of body and arms. Cookson, a first class pugilist, offered a fight, but this the latter declined, saying Cookson was too big for him. After a light squabble Cookson treated him to a pint of beer, and said "He would not hurt a hair of his head." The afterwards, however, began to wrangle together, and Cookson took the other and threw him completely over his head, and then he gave him a tremendous blow upon his forehead, and Cookson fell back upon him. McMorris was picked up with his forehead covered with blood, and died soon after. Two inquests have been held on the body; the jury, in one case, returned a verdict of "Manslaughter, and in the other, a verdict of "Murder."

NEWSPAPERS.—In 1794 there were only six newspapers published in the country to which England; now there are more than two hundred and twelve.

CONTAINING a full description of the above complaint, ILLUSTRATED BY ENGRAVINGS, showing the different stages of this deplorable and often fatal disease, as well as the different directions for the use of mercury, accompanied with plain and practical directions for an effectual and speedy cure with ease, secrecy, and safety, without the aid of medical assistance.

PERRY'S PURIFYING SPECIFIC PILLS, price 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s., are well known throughout Europe and America to be the most effectual remedy for the cure of the Venereal Disease, for every stage and symptom of the Venereal Disease, in its various forms, including Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Secondary Symptoms, Strictures, Seminal Weakness, Deficiency, and all Diseases of the Urinary Passages, without loss of time, confinement, or hindrance from business; they have effected the most surprising cures, not only in recent and severe cases, but when salivation and all other means have failed; and when an early application is made to these Pills for the cure of the Venereal Disease, frequently contracted in a moment of inebriety, the eradication is generally completed in a few days; and the more advanced and inveterate stages of the venereal infection, characterized by a variety of painful and distressing symptoms, a perseverance in the Specific Pills, and to the directions fully pointed out in the Treatise, will ensure to the patient a permanent and radical cure.

It is a melancholy fact that thousands fall victims to this horrid disease, owing to the unskillfulness of illiterate men, who, by the use of that deadly poison, mercury, ruin the constitution, cause ulceration, blotches on the face, and dimness of sight, noise in the ears, deafness, obsolete gists, nodes on the sinews, altered voice, threatened nose, and general pain in the head and limbs, till at length a general debility and decay of the constitution ensues, and a melancholy death puts a period to their dreadful sufferings.

In those dreadful cases of sexual debility, brought on by an early and indiscriminate indulgence of the passions, frequently acquired without the knowledge of the dreadful consequences resulting therefrom, and which not only ruin the individual, but also the health of his family, and occasion the necessity of renouncing the felicities of marriage to those who have given way to this delusive and destructive habit, the weakness and debility of the system, proceeding mainly from the use of mercury, and a numerous train of distressing affections. In these distressing cases, whether the consequences of such baneful habits, or any other cause, a certain and speedy cure may be relied on by taking PERRY'S PURIFYING SPECIFIC PILLS, and by a strict attention to the directions pointed out in the treatise, which fully explains the disease, and the mode of its cure.

MESSRS. PERRY & CO., SURGEONS, may be consulted as usual at No. 4, Great Charles Street, Birmingham, and 23, Slater Street, Liverpool. Only one personal visit is required from a country patient, to enable Messrs. Perry & Co. to give such advice, as will be the means of effecting a permanent and effectual cure, after all other means have proved ineffectual.

Letters for advice must be post paid, and contain the usual fee of one pound.

Qb. I learn what the churchyard has given to me.
 Oh! the worm, the rich worm has a noble domain,
 For where monarchs are voiceless I revel and reign;
 I live at my ease, and regale where I may,
 None dispute with the earthworm his will or his way.
 The high and the bright for my feasting must fall—
 Youth, beauty, and manhood—I prey on ye all.
 The prince and the peasant, the despotic slave,
 Ah, all must bow down to the worm and the grave.

MR. DEEGAN AT NEW MILLS.—By far the most numerous and spirited meeting ever held here was convened on Friday evening by the announcement of the bellman, that Mr. Deegan, member of the National Convention, would address his constituents at eight o'clock, in connection with his stewardship witness to the Convention, that evening at eight o'clock, in Cavendish Square. About an hour before the time of meeting, Mr. Deegan made his appearance in a light car, accompanied by Messrs. Fenton and Durham, of Stalybridge, and shortly afterwards, crowds were observed wending their way to the meeting, from all directions. Mr. John Sartres, an intelligent workman, was unanimously called to the chair, and opened the business of the meeting in a neat and appropriate speech, and then called upon Mr. Fenton to move the first resolution, which was as follows:—"That we, the people of New Mills, in public meeting do hereby vote, that we are extremely expressing our unlimited confidence in Mr. Deegan, as our representative in the Convention, and pledge ourselves to support that gentleman as we have hitherto done, so long as he continues to discharge his duties faithfully." He supported the resolution in an able and energetic speech, which was seconded by Mr. Fenton, and carried by acclamation. The Chairman then called upon Mr. John Durham to move the second resolution, which was:—"That this meeting places implicit confidence in the General Convention of the working classes, and pledges itself to support it to the utmost, meriting an enthusiastic assent." Mr. Durham ably supported the resolution, which was seconded by Mr. Sartres, and carried with acclamation. The next proposition was, "That these resolutions be sent to the Northern Star office, and the Editors be respectfully requested to insert them," which was carried unanimously. After which Mr. Deegan presented himself, and was received with the most tremendous cheer, and then read into a brief detail of his conduct whilst in the Convention, and of his missionary tour,—lauded the Whigs and Tories, owners, and shopkeepers,—assured the meeting that he should offer himself as a candidate for the Northern division of Derbyshire at the next general election, and concluded a most eloquent speech, amidst the cheering of the assembled multitude. The people of New Mills are now beginning to become interested in good earnest, owing to the mills being stopped throughout the neighbourhood, and are resolved "to come up to the mark," and "to do or die."

AYCLIFFE.—A meeting was holden in this place on Wednesday night, when delegates from Darlington addressed a crowded and highly attentive audience. The brave but oppressed, and, in many instances, destitute men of Aycliffe, are determined to press onward! onward! for the obtaining of their rights and liberties.—Ibid.

NEWBOTTLE.—Mr. John O'Neil, of Sunderland, delivered a very eloquent sermon, on Sunday last, to a numerous congregation in this place. The sermon, which was upon the connection of politics with religion, was listened to throughout with intense interest, and all seemed well satisfied with the able and scriptural view he took of the subject.—Ibid.

MR. THOMASON'S TOUR.—EXTRACT OF A LETTER FROM THAT GENTLEMAN, DATED BERRICK, MAY 30TH, 1830.—I held a meeting at the high part of Berrick, among fishermen, on Monday evening. At West Allerton on Tuesday morning, I held a meeting, and was present about nine miles in the country. It was three or four miles the morning before I got home. The hinds and colliers are all in motion—and the public mind, in this part, appears to be heaving like the bosom of the ocean itself. To-night, that is Thursday, I give an address upon the Town Hall stairs; on Friday evening, I will give a similar address on Tuesday morning, being Berrick Fair held on Tuesday. In consequence of the request of the surrounding districts, I shall make arrangements for a Demonstration in favour of the Charter, to be held on Uznack Moor, just above Berrick; all is going on most gloriously. I am distressed to hear that from places eight or ten miles distant, the Sandhills are being taken about ten miles, expressly to see me, nearly all agriculturists, to request me to visit them.—Ibid.

WANDSWORTH WORKING MEN'S ASSOCIATION.—A large public meeting of the above body was held in the large room of the King's Head Inn, on Tuesday evening, May 21. Mr. Stallwood was called to the chair. The Manifesto of the General Convention, which has been previously agreed to by the Association, was read, and the motion of Mr. Harris, seconded by Mr. Dolling, that the meeting of it by the Association was adjourned until Tuesday evening next, as was also the other business of the Association, it having been previously agreed to that the evening should be devoted to a social purpose. On this occasion, the wives, sisters, daughters, and sweethearts of the members were invited. The meeting was crowded, and it was thought that existed during the evening was that of seeing and being seen should render the greatest amount of comfort and pleasure to their fellow beings, and thus was enjoyed a true "feast of reason and flow of soul." During the evening, the following toasts were given, and, in answer to the toast of the People, the People who ought to be the source of all power.—General Convention, may those who have held up their hands in favour of their measures support them

SCOTLAND.

REPRESENTATION OF EDINBURGH.—Ever since the resignation of the Speaker was known, the contemptible Whig clique have been constantly at work, sneaking from one hop to another, concerting operations. Well knowing that they durst not face a public meeting of the inhabitants, they held a hole-and-corner jam-session, and came to the following square, to which only the faithful and devoted adherents of the faction—about one hundred persons—were invited by circulars, to consider the best man to represent the metropolis. As might be expected, the member-maker for Scotland, Sir James Gibson Craik, aided by his satellites, had all his own way. Mr. James Macaulay, however, came, and Mr. John Robertson to the king of the tories, the tories, and play the part of first clown, in proposing Thomas Babington Macaulay as the happy man to misrepresent the Modern Athens. The Radicals and Chartists, indignant at such conduct, appealed to the citizens of Edinburgh in a public meeting, on Monday, to know whether the cry is to be dictated to and domineered over by such a set of peddling iniquities. The meeting was held at the Theatre Royal, to suffocation, Mr. Aytoun in the chair. Messrs. Aytoun, Tait, Fraser, and others, who all joined in the principles and doctrines of Universal Suffrage, Annual Parliaments, &c. addressed the meeting. Mr. Aytoun distinctly stated that the country would have been better situated under the direction of the Duke of Wellington than under the influence of the Duke of Devonshire, since the Reform Bill came into operation. He criticized Lord Melbourne and his government. He eulogized the moral conduct and spirit of Sir Robert Peel.

SOUTH SHIELDS.—A mighty gathering of the hardy and hearty people of this place on Wednesday, May 29th, when Mr. Harney attended and addressed the masses in a lengthy and soul-stirring appeal. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed and the utmost determination on the part of the people to be free of the yoke of the oppressor. A number, both of men and women, came forward and enrolled themselves as members of the Political Union. A meeting of the Women's Union had been previously held, at which Mr. Harney had attended and had received from the public the warmest testimonials of their esteem and confidence. We understand that it is the intention of the Female Political Union of South Shields to hold a grand tea party in honour of Mr. Harney, on Tuesday next, and that a great and public demonstration will be held in the Market Place, at eight o'clock in the evening.

SUNDERLAND.—A meeting was held at this place in the Assembly Room, on Friday evening, May 31st; Mr. Williams was called to the chair. After the usual remarks had been made, he introduced a short speech from Mr. Knox, the delegate. The chairman introduced Mr. Duncan, the delegate for Dumfries, who was received with tremendous cheering. Mr. Duncan then addressed the meeting in a long and eloquent speech, which was warmly cheered throughout. Mr. Harney followed, and received the warmest tokens of approbation, the chairman, at the close of the meeting, congratulating the assembled people that they could now be proud to have a man of the calibre of Mr. Harney for their leader, and that they could now say with certainty that the

and five children, aged severally 11, 9, 6, 4, and 2, to lament his untimely death, none of whom are yet of age. The Board, however, were not to be deterred by the pathetic appeal of the poor man. The Chairman, a Tory, volunteered the amount of £100 as a gratuity to the widow, on the necessity and humanity not only of a renewal of the order, but of an advance, since to him it appeared impossible that the widow could maintain her children on the £100. The Board, however, were not so much influenced by such a pittance as five shillings: but, as that sum was the maximum ordinary allowance, no increase could be made without calling the attention of the Board. That was done, and considerable discussion followed. The Chairman, however, was not, however, our informant was unable to furnish us with the result of the discussion. He said, however, Suffice it to say, that the Chairman's views were supported by some other Tories and one Radical, whilst Mr. Cockport, the Wage Clerk to the Union, and some of the Whigs opposed the proposition, but, as cause, amongst others, for the refusal of the Board to apply for more than the old allowance, and therefore she must be well satisfied. The Chairman observed that the poor creature must not starve; and it was agreed that the Board should advance her £5 a week and keep the family, unless she live upon £5 a week, out to rob. Mr. Cockport remarked, that if the Board was so lax of the public money as to be so contemptible by the proposition, people would make use of the Board's money for other purposes. The sum of £5 a week was enough for the poor creature having moreover the discretionary power to afford temporary relief in case of danger. [Mr. Cockport received £100 a year as clerk.] The widow was then asked, "What she thought of her husband's demeanour was such as to plead her own cause with wondrous effect. Being interrogated about the mystery how she had maintained her family, the widow, in a state of lividity, blushing, admitted that she had been guilty of adultery."

of the storeroom on the south side of the brewery being out of repair, a man named William Turner, was engaged to put down some flagging in the partition of the storeroom, and to mend the roof of the same size of the vat. In this warehouse vats of immense size are used for storing malt, and the floors are ranged on each side, leaving an aisle, each of a beam, of immense depth and substance, extending the length of the building, and supported by strong pillars of the same material, about six feet apart, and about five feet in height. At the hour before mentioned the unfortunate man Turner went under the vat, for the purpose, as it is supposed, of mending the roof. He was not long in getting under, but placed there so as to be out of the way, and at the instant the metal grid snapped in two, and the ponderous vessel, which, with its contents, must have weighed upwards of 20 tons, fell upon him, and crushed it to pieces. At this time a workman belonging to the premises stood opposite to him, but he did not see the accident, as he was not but instant destruction, not, however, far enough to escape serious injury. A portion of the metal beam fell upon his right leg, and severely fractured it close to the knee. An alarm was instantly given, and Messrs. Gow and Davidson, the gentlemen who have the principal management of the immense concern, were quickly on the spot, and instantly gave direction to the men, and the contents of the vat were taken down as expeditiously as possible, but the quantity was so great (150 barrels), that before it could be effected, and the enormous vessel itself lifted up, upwards of an hour elapsed. The body of Turner was taken from underneath, when it presented a dreadful spectacle, being literally crushed to pieces. The mangled remains were covered with a blanket and moved to the residence of the Marlborough Road public-house, in the neighbourhood, to await the Coroner's inquest. Cole was also removed on a stretcher to the London Hospital, where every attention was paid to him. The metal beams which gave way have been erected upwards of 100 feet, and the vat is now in the water, with the exception perhaps of a few hours after the vat had been emptied, had been subject to the same weight or pressure as on Tuesday morning; and that it should have broken down at a moment when a human being was underneath it (as extraordinary an occurrence as the accident happened), is as extraordinary as it is melancholy.

LEEDS CORN MARKET.—The arrivals of wheat, barley, and beans to this day's market are smaller than last week; oats larger. Fine English wheat has been sold on the same terms as last week, but the secondary and chambered samples, also Foreign, has been very dull and sold at a discount.

MANCHESTER CORN MARKET, SATURDAY, JUNE 1.—There was a very slender attendance of buyers at our market this morning, and prices of wheat may be noted fully 2d., per 70lbs. below the currency of this day se'nnight. Flour was also but moderate request, and middling runs were purchased at a reduction of 1s. per cask, whilst superior fine qualities maintained the late auctioneering prices.

United States Flour was 6d. per brl. lower. Oats and Oatmeal were more inquired for and rather dearer. In Beans or Malt no variation can be stated.

HUDDERSFIELD MARKET, June 4th.—There has been little alteration in our market since last week.

week. Fancy woollens of a good quality are in demand; broad and narrow cloths are not much enquired for, although the stock in the Hall is light and there appears to be few who will speculate. The

NEWCASTLE CORN MARKET, June 1.—The greater part of this week has again been remarkable for very cold and ungenial weather, the long-continuance of which, and the very backward state the crops, commences to cause more animation in the corn trade, and the business done to-day both town and country millers was much more extensive than for several weeks past. We had a full supply of farmer's wheat, the greatest portion which consisted of very inferior samples, and better descriptions sold freely at an advance of per qr.; foreign was in good demand at fully 1s. 10d. Saturday's prices. Oats were again rather dearer than Barley and Peas unaltered. Fine Rye sold more freely, and is likely to be dearer.—The arrivals from the coastwise from the 1st March to the 31st May, the last year, were 5,161 qrs. wheat, and 12,643 sacks of flour, whilst during the same period last year there were 5,161 qrs. wheat, and 12,643 sacks of flour.

amounted to 15,889 qrs. wheat, and 18,750 sacks of flour, being about two-thirds less of the former and one-third of the latter.

LIVERPOOL CORN MARKET.—Monday, Jan. 3.—The supplies of British Grain, Meal, and Flour continue on the most limited scale; but of Foreign was Tuesday, chiefly from the lower Baltic ports. The trade has had little animation during the week, and the millers and dealers have been enabled to make purchases on rather easier terms. On Friday Wheat was noted 2d. per bushel lower, and Flour 6d. to 1s. per sack. Of Oats the market has come very bare, and having a fair demand price have been raised 1d. per bushel; 4s. 3d. per 45 is the value of best meal, and other qualities down to 3s. 11d. The stock of Oatmeal, too light, and good cuts command 36s. to 37s. per lbs. Barley for grinding has sold at 5s. to 5s. per 60lbs. Beans and Peas as last noted

LONDON CORN EXCHANGE, MONDAY, JULY 3.—There was a moderate supply of Wheat from Essex, Kent, and Suffolk, for this day's market, with a very limited quantity of Barley, Beans, Peas, from all these countis, and the fresh arrivals of English, Irish, and Scotch Oats, were trading, but of Foreign Wheat, Barley, and Oats, the imports since this day so'night have been pretty good. Fine English Wheat met a good sale to our town millers, with a few other buyers of choice quality, and the prices of this day so'night were obtained for all descriptions; a few picnics of samples of white obtained rather more money not sufficiently so as to alter the currency; with the exception of about 143 grs. of inferior par and tailings, the leading Essex factor had sold his supply before ten o'clock this morning. There was also a good steady demand for the best qualities of foreign, both to town and country millers, and fully as much money was obtained such. The new importations of Dantzic Wheat far inferior in quality to those of the by-gone seasons, so that there is little really choice now on sale, the great bulk of free consisting of middling and ordinary sorts, and the recent supplies not being generally offered duty paid, but mostly in bond. Oats were held at high prices, and the quality of the crop trivial additions this morning caused more disposition to buy on the part of our leading dealers; as yet they give any advance reluctantly, and though the trade must be considered firm, yet cannot be quoted dearer generally, a few he-

LIVERPOOL CATTLE MARKET, MONDAY, JUNE 3.—The supply of cattle to-day has been somewhat smaller than the preceding week, and the quality generally pretty good, but we cannot see any alteration in the prices from our last quotation. There has been a small increase in the prices of the following:

There has been a considerable increase in the number of sheep and lambs, but there being no disposition on the part of the butchers to make large chases, the holders were obliged to give way, consequently there has been a great reduction in prices of both mutton and lamb, and there have been many left unsold. The first quality beef be quoted at 7½d. second ditto 7d., middling ordinary from 6½d. down to 6d. Good wethers in the morning realised 6½d. but the general price was 6½d., and lamb at about 7½d. per cwt. sinking the offal. The market upon the whole may be considered rather heavy, but more especially mutton and lamb.—Number of beasts 851; sheep 1,000; calves 1,000; pigs 1,000.
