ELECTION OF MATRON TO THE L...

THE INFIRMARY.
On Wednesday week, a crowded meeting of the members took place to elect a matron for the above institution, in the room of Mrs. Smith, who had resigned, when Mrs. Pycock, late housekeeper to Mr. Terry, Esq., of Newland, was elected by a majority.

MEETING OF CHARTISTS.—On Tuesday evening, in consequence of the Working Men's Association Room being too small, a public meeting was held on the Dock Green, to advocate the Peace Chartists' cause, in order to retort the Whig Magistrate's defiance. Dr. John Taylor was announced as candidate for Hull, at the next election. The business of the meeting commenced by Mr. Read, made a long speech, and concluded by proposing Dr. John Taylor, who addressed the meeting considerable length on the claims he had for support of his working classes, and took a general survey of our future proceeding and mode of action, which was received with acclamation; after which considerable length, urging on the people to be united and form themselves into sections and classes, although it was not constitutional to recommend a system, they could button up their pockets and pass the shop of one who was an enemy of People's Charter. Mr. Robert Hartwell, delegate for the Tower Hamlets, then addressed the meeting, giving an account of the success of the Convention, and present position which were very cheering, which facts and arguments were received with great attention. Mr. John Jackson, delegate for Hull, also gave an account of the proposed in him by the working classes of this in sending him to the Convention, which gave much satisfaction. The evening being very fine and pleasant, about half past seven the meeting broke up, leaving three or four thousand. The meeting broke up at nine o'clock, peaceably and orderly, although a large body of the police in attendance, which a large number of friends retired to Thorpe's, the Royal Oct, Blackfriargate, when the social meeting was held to the satisfaction of all.

Brixton Road, September 29, 1830.
—As on Monday last you were candid enough to send me with benignity a debtor and deceiver, &c., of the people, and as you also stated that the two were too well informed to be led away by you, I am glad to find you were the same consistent Radical that you were, and a true friend of the working class, I therefore give you my thanks for the trouble you have taken to meet the people with me, and I will give them, save them from being further misled. This offer you declined for several reasons. I proposed to hold an in-door meeting, to which public should be admitted by ticket only—that I should have the one-half, and myself the other; that we should have a very fair choice, and by the verdict I should be ready to abide. This proposition was so fair that you could not reject—it did not accept it. I felt, after the grave charges you brought against me, that the greatest reason by yourself to go off for honour and consistency—that it was to the public that I should make an effort to your proofs laid before them, and, therefore, sent. Two friends to wait upon you, yesterday, to purpose of effecting an arrangement. You refused. Your only reason given was "That if I called a fool you were not."

I, Sir, as here you have an opportunity to try your great talents, and to exercise your power for no other end than a purpose as that of relieving thousands, perhaps millions, of our fellow-creatures of saving from delusion and misery and degradation all those who follow me, and all who advocate similar opinions,—I cannot but desire to serve the individual, and every man, who has been oppressed by the oppression and misery which you palpably told you, no one can doubt. An opportunity to do so great a good, and by the same means to gratify yourself, you could on no account allow it. Therefore, I, therefore, I am glad to see you are ready, and very desirous, to be gloriously successful. I am anxious to afford you an opportunity to achieve so great—a glorious triumph.

In closing your acceptance to this public challenge, I remain, Sir, yours to command,
S. PRINGLETT.

W. Moore, Esq., postmaster, of Huddersfield.

LOCAL MARKETS.

CHESTER CORN MARKET.—The supply of Wheat and Oats to this day's market is larger than last week; the latter little alteration. The weather has been fine since last Thursday, and has been during the three showers. The prices, with the exception of Beans, have advanced considerably. Wheat has been limited at last week's prices, both old and new, red has sold at 68s to 73s, white to 78s per quarter. Oats, Shelling, and Beans very little altered. Barley has been sold at 44s to 46s per quarter from the South. There has been some Wheat got secured in this neighbourhood.

CHESTER CLOTH MARKETS.—We had two better crops on Saturday last and on Tuesday, than we have before for some time experienced; on the former we have been able to get goods taken out of the Mills than had been the case for several weeks. In the warehouses, also, rather more business has been done.

FORTNIGHT FAIR, SEPT. 25.—We have a large supply of Sheep and Lambs at this morning's sale, as on some recent days. The market during the morning has been brisk, and without letting so much advance in price, the whole has been cleared off at 6d per lb. Number of tons: 679; Sheep and Lambs 3250. Price of Hay 6d to 6½; Straw 4d to 5d per stone.

HUDDERSFIELD CLOTH MARKET, TUESDAY.—Our stock to-day was much the same as last week in quantity and quality; heavy goods are rather scarce, and some inquiries have been given, but the warehouse very little is doing; speculation is at a standstill. The stock of goods in the mills is on the increase, and prices are a shade lower than usual. We can report no alteration in the local markets.

MILTON CATTLE MARKET, SEP. 21.—There was a small number of short-horns and other cattle, besides shown at this Market to-day, and few for which were not in advance. The show of calves, both in Chester and here, was very satisfactory, but the trade, both here and there, was very being sold. Of Pigs there was very little offered, and prices were much the same as the average of last week.

FORTNIGHT FAIR, SEP. 24.—Our show of cattle was not so numerous large; the number of Sheep and Lambs was good, with a few extra. For Beef 6s to 6½ per stone; Mutton 6d to 7s per stone.

CROFTON CORN MARKET, SEP. 21.—There was a moderate supply of Grain to-day. Prices were following prices:—Wheat 68s 3d; and Beans 43s per quarter.

MILTON CORN MARKET, SEP. 21.—There was a small attendance of farmers at our Corn Market to-day, and a moderate quantity of any kind of grain exhibited, and but little business was in consequence transacted. Wheat was from 1s 2s to 2s 6d, dearer, as also Oats which were 4d per stone. Very few samples of new Barley were offered for sale on the way, but a few were offered for sale. Prices as follows:—Old Barley 70s to 75s per 40 stone; Red Barley 36s to 38s per cwt. of stone; Oats, new, from 14d to 15d,—old, 15d. to 16d per stone.

MARLBOROUGH CORN MARKET.—At our market on Monday last we had a good supply of Wheat. Prices were a shade lower. New Wheat, 15s. 6d. to 16s.; ditto, 18s. to 20s.

MARLBOROUGH WHEAT MARKET.—At this market on Monday last we had a good supply of Wheat. It was sold at 54d. to 6d., and Mutton at 5d. to 6d. pound.

STATE OF TRADE.—There was a considerable inquiry for yarn to-day, but it did not produce sufficient quantity of adequate price, and consequently many descriptions of yarn, especially 40's, and the best kinds of mule yarn, were a shade lower on the preceding Tuesday, but other sorts remained steady. Yarns were generally a shade lower, and power-loom printing was about 1½d. lower than last week; the very best qualities of 27-inch cloth barely commanding 1s. heavy goods there was no change of prices, but with some exceptions, Manchester Guardian of Wednesday.
