listen for two hours to what they themselves chose to hear; and we must twaddle until we have assigned enough time to exercise palace wit.

It was the vote was taken, a forest of his was upheld for Mr. Duncan's side—for Mr. Harrison's side none more than thirty hands had been raised. The cheers and shouts of triumph which followed and the gleams of the Ochil-hills re-echo with the glad shout of Charism, over all the will-o'-the-wisp and the lights that the middle class are raising to deceive the unwise Chartist. Every town in the country a commotion, previous to and since this discussion place. Waverers are confirmed, and the enemies chafed and dispirited. The chiefs that follow for Feargar and shorts of triumph, which has nothing made the enemies present both blue and red in the face. They now find that the Charter and people's leaders are engraven upon the heart of him who the Whigs are threatening the shedding no extermination to Sir Duncan, and declare there will no peace in the district until he also forms one of already numerous list of victims to satiate the revenge of Whigs and Tories.

The business was closed by Mr. DUNCAN moving and Mr. DEARIE seconding, a vote of thanks to respective chairmen.—From our own Correspondent

HOUSE OF COMMONS, FRIDAY, MAY 23.

M^r. SCHNOLFIELD gave notice that on the 30th of May he should move that the extreme suffering of the Irish farmers from low wages and want of employment renders it the imperative duty of Parliament to separate till it has devised some means for alleviating the great misery that now prevails in all the manufacturing districts of the country. (Great heat.)

On the motion of the ATTORNEY-GENERAL Stamp Duties Bill was read a third time and passed.

LORD J. RUSSELL moved the adjournment of the House at its rising till Wednesday next.

M^r. R. PEEL said he had been generally supposed that the object of his resolution was to interfere with the discussion of the Corn Laws; but so far from being the case, if the Noble Lord had proposed that the House should sit on Monday next, he would have offered no opposition to the motion. That Noble Lord having proposed an adjournment till Wednesday, he should not object to it, with the understanding, however, that the debate should have precedence that day.

LORD J. RUSSELL had no objection to that arrangement.

The "Want of Confidence" debate was resumed and the House was addressed by Mr. Milnes, Mr. Sandford, Mr. Darby, Mr. Hutton, Lord Alington, H. G. Grant, Mr. Tregheymouth, Mr. Milnes, Mr. H. C. Fox, Mr. St. John, Mr. Corry, and Mr. James Graham.

On the motion of Mr. Seymour Talfourd, at 4 o'clock before one, the House adjourned till Wednesday next.

HOUSE OF COMMONS, FRIDAY, MAR 29

MR. SCHOLFIELD gave notice that on the 30th of April he would move that the extreme suffering of the poor classes from the want of employment be remedied by the imperative duty of Parliament to appropriate till it has devised some means for alleviating the great misery that now prevails in all the manufacturing districts of the country. (Hear, hear.)

On the motion of the ATTORNEY-GENERAL

THE HOUSE adjourned on the third time and passed the 10th clause of the Bill.

LORD J. RUSSELL moved the adjournment of the House at its rising till Wednesday next.

SIR R. PEEL said it had been generally supposed that the object of his resolution was to suspend the House of the 6th June Bill, but so far from suspending the clause, if the Noble Lord had proposed to suspend the clause, he would have said so. The House should sit on Monday next, he would have feared no opposition to the motion. But the Noble Lord having proposed an adjournment till Wednesday next, he would not object to it, with the understanding that the debate should have proceeded on that day.

The "Want of Confidence" debate was resumed at 10 o'clock, and the House was addressed by Mr. Milnes, Lord Sandford, Mr. Darby, Mr. Hutton, Lord Norreys, Mr. Gifford, Mr. Graham, Lord Teignmouth, Mr. Ingham, Mr. Boscawen, Mr. Sturt, Mr. Darnley, Lord Sutherland, Lord Sandon, Lord Morpeth, and Sir James Graham.

On the motion of Mr. Sergeant Talbot, at 9 o'clock or before one, the House adjourned till Wednesday next.

The Augsburg Gazette, in its advice from Constantinople, states that disturbances are apprehended at Cyprus, but gives no details. The Courier has also says that the Pacha governing that island has intimated to the British minister at Constantinople that he has asked for the advice of a council composed of the foreign consuls and the principal Ottoman inhabitants. The Gazette of Upper Germany says that the Pacha will visit Cyprus before coming to Gerardia with his squadron.

HOUSE OF COMMONS. FRIDAY, MAY 2

Mr. SCHOLFIELD gave notice that on the 3d of June he should move that the extreme suffering of the industrious classes from low wages and want of employment renders it the imperative duty of Parliament not to separate till it has devised some means for alleviating the great misery that now prevails in all the manufacturing districts of the country. (Hear, hear.)

On the motion of the ATTORNEY GENERAL, the House adjourned until Monday next. The stamp DATES BILL was read a third time and passed. The motion of Mr. RUSSELL, moved the adjournment of the House at its rising till Wednesday next.

On Mr. RUSSELL said it had been generally supposed that the object of his resolution was to interfere with the discussion of the Cora Law; but he felt that it was not so. He proposed that the House should sit on Monday next, he would not insist on it, but he would not offer any opposition to the motion. But the Hon. member having proposed an adjournment till Wednesday next, he should not object to it, with the understanding, however, that the debate should have precedence.

On Mr. RUSSELL had no objection to that arrangement.

The "Want of Confidence" debate was resumed, and the House adjourned till Monday next.

On Monday, the 10th inst., the House assembled at 10 o'clock, Mr. DARBY, Mr. HUTTON, Lord NORFOLK, Mr. GENTIAN, Lord PELGEMOUTH, Mr. INGHAM, Mr. HARRIS, Lord SANDON, Lord NORFOLK, and Sir James GUTHRIE were present.

On the motion of Mr. Sergeant Talfourd, the House adjourned till Wednesday next.

The Augsburg Gazette, in its advices from the East, states that disturbances are apprehended in Cyprus, but gives no details. The Courrier of Constantinople says that the Pacha governing that island formerly sent the Sultan a request for the assistance of a council of the principal consuls and the principal civil and military officers of the island, composed of the foreign consuls and the principal civil and military inhabitants. The Gazette of Upper Germany states that Tahir Pacha will visit Cyprus before he goes to Candia with his squadron.

LEEDS CLOTH MARKETS.—Business is again paralysed. At the Cloth Halls on Tuesday and Wednesday, there was not the least demand for any description of goods, nor was there scarcely a buyer to be seen in the market. The slight excitement and demand last week, was, as we anticipated, only temporary, nor does it seem at all probable that throughout some extraordinary change either in domestic

NEW YORK CORN MARKET, MAY 29.—The trading in the neighborhood has made ours a sort of local market. The past has been excessively small in demand, are more plentiful than Wheat; the former is in demand, at about 105¢ to 11¢ per stone, and the latter at from 13¢ to 15¢ per bushel.

MALDEN CORN MARKET, MAY 29.—We continue to have a limited supply of all kinds of Grain in the market. The demand for Wheat is very moderate. Barley, for grinding, was sold at 40¢ per bushel. Wheat, Red, from 56¢ to 61¢; White ditto 61¢ to 76¢ per cwt. of 40s. Barley, 27s to 30s per cwt. Oats, 10½d to 11½d per stone.

CHICAGO CORN MARKET, JUNE 1.—There has been another week of remarkably fine weather, and the demand for grain has been very moderate. The market is quiet, and prices are not quoted low, yet the business passing, either in bond or free grain, is not a least possible character. There has been a rather good arrival of Wheat from abroad, which RICHMOND CORN MARKET, MAY 29.—We had a fair supply of grain in our market to-day; though prices were much the same as last week.—Wheat sold from 7s. 6d. to 9s. 6d.; Oats, 2s. 9d. to 4s. 9d.; Barley, 3s. 9d. to 4s. 6d.; Beans, 4s. 6d. to 5s. per bushel.

market to-day, but something less in number than last week; the quality has been generally prettier and for the time of the year, and prices are a shade less than our last quotations. We have had a good supply of both Sheep and Lambs, the number considerably more than last week, and the quality good. In the morning large prices were asked for both Beef and Mutton, but owing to the very stormy weather, the butchers and dealers were not liling to comply, which caused a slow and heavy market. The best Beef was sold as high as 63¢ per lb., middling and ordinary from 5½d. down to 5¼. There were a few of the best Scotch Sheep in the morning sold as high as 8d. per lb. in the morning; better than the best Wethers and Ewes 6½d. per lb., medium quality, agreeable to quality. There was a great depression in the market in the afternoon, and a few of both Beasts and Sheep left unsold at the close of the market. Number of Cattle at market, Beasts, 708; Sheep and Lambs, 530.

FROM IRELAND CORN MARKET, SATURDAY, MAY 2.
From Ireland and coastwise, the arrivals at Liverpool and Runcorn are again on the moderated scale; but from abroad the imports of wheat are large, say 16,339 quarters, and moderate other articles. There is no alteration in the duties.
Wheat, and entries of that article for home consumption continue to be made, both from the warehouse and ex ship. There was not much passing in the corn market this morning, but the business done

heat was at the full currency of this day's value, and in some instances these quotations were higher than they exceeded. Prime English and Irish Flour was scarce, and commanded a ready sale at advanced prices; but staple and inferior parcels were with difficulty disposed of. The trade in Oats or Oatmeal was confined to a limited consumptive demand without material change in prices, whilst a general advance prevailed throughout the trade in all other articles.

LIVERPOOL CORN MARKET, MONDAY, MAY 31.
The arrivals of Grain, Flour, and Oatmeal, to the port during the last seven days, have been very light; but from abroad we have received 17,189 qrs.

Wheat, 1080 qrs. or Barley, 1140 qrs. of Beans, 1596 barrels of Flour; and there have been raised for home consumption 5286 qrs. of Wheat and 577 qrs. of Beans, and 933 barrels of Flour. At last week's market, the town's and neighbourhood millers (who had allowed themselves to become very idle of stock), were retail buyers of Wheat to a vast amount, and an advance of 2d. per bushel was quoted generally, the business resting chiefly, however, on the best qualities of free Foreign: in fact, either English or Irish Wheat formed a very small portion of the supply. The fine weather has since restrained purchases within the limits of their instant wants; holders, however, have not attempted to force, and prices remain without material alteration. Free Flour continues on a moderate demand, has maintained previous rates. Throughout the week, both Oats and Oatmeal have met a limited inquiry, but, being at the same time in small supply, they have undergone a rise, if any, change in value. A cargo of Rostock Barley has arrived, the quality fine, and is held at 3d. per 60lbs., duty paid. Beans and Peas as usual. In the early part of the week, a cargo of Wheat changed hands in bond at 6s. per bushel, and about 1,000 barrels of United States flour have been sold at 23s. 6d. per barrel.

SMITHFIELD MARKET, MONDAY, MAY 31.—Owing to the supply of Beasts offering to-day being, on the whole, extensive, the weather very unfavourable for slaughtering, and the attendance of both London and country dealers limited, the Beef trade was in a sluggish state, at a depression in the current price on this day seenight of from 2d. to 4d. per cwt. while upwards of 400 head were turned out unsold.

the conclusion of business. From Sound received 100 Soots and 300 Sheep by steamers. Sheep were freely to hand, yet the inquiry for them was means so heavy as might have been anticipated. Last week's quotations were well supported; 20 lambs were received, per railway, from the Isle of Wight, while the Lamb trade was steady, at full prices. Although the numbers of both Calves and Lambs were small, the sale for them was heavy, at their quoted prices.

LONDON CORN EXCHANGE, MONDAY, MAY 31.—Wheat, 68½d. — Wi-at-on, 31-

There was a limited supply of wheat, Peas, Beans, and Peas from Essex, Kent, and Suffolk for this day's market, and the fresh arrivals of Oats were very moderate. During the past week the exports of foreign Grain have been large, consisting of 33,794 qrs Wheat, 1202 qrs Barley, 6,533 qrs Corn, 1072 qrs Peas, 731 qrs Linseed, 21 qrs Rape, and 2845 barrels Flour. Some millers have a few factors continue to pay the present high rate of 23 shillings and eight pence per quarter of more choice fresh thrashed English Corn for this market, and they may continue to enter for con-reception, unless the supplies of home-grown wheat cease; the more so under the influence of fine weather at the same time. There was a fair steady demand for Wheat, at the rate of last Monday, for the better descriptions, really prime qualities, and for the finer flour, but inferior sorts were selling full prices, whilst inferior sorts were selling for cheaper, and very dull. Flour was unsaleable at any value, the best marks from ship meeting a limited sale. Malt continues to be taken off in limited quantities, choice samples realising about the current market value. Sales of Barley were mostly confined to grinding qualities, and such brought full prices.

much money. English Beans, from their comparative scarcity, commanded quite as high rates as the Egyptian, from their abundance, must be noted 15c. per qr. cheaper. There was nothing of the moment passing in Peas, and this article was unaltered in value. A slow sale took place for Onions, mostly confined to the consumers, who gave about the same rates of last Monday for prime heavy qualities. A few samples and Irish screenings were somewhat cheaper, but not sufficiently so to alter the current prices. Beans have been exported in some quantity during the past week, and a cargo of Rapeseed has been
